XtremeMac™

XtremeHD Analog Audio™

The XtremeHD™ Analog Audio Cable connects high-fidelity audio sources such as Apple TV, DVD players, satellite receivers, cable boxes and digital video recorders to your A/V receiver or television.

Don't be fooled by the compact design. Our audio cable is constructed with the highest-quality materials and is guaranteed to deliver crisp stereo audio to your home entertainment system. The connectors and split center pin are plated with 24k gold to ensure a lossless signal. Durable rubber overmolding insulates and protects the cable and connector and allows for easy installation.
